

Ponderosa Pine Mixed Graminoid Woodland Complex (15)

Location: This type is best developed north of Walnut Canyon and west of the Monument access road. Smaller examples of this type also occur on the west side of the project area south of the canyon.

Photosignature: The texture is uneven, with pines of all sizes occurring in open to dense stands. Taller pines have black shadows, and all pines have red crowns. The grassy openings among the trees are gray green to pale green in color and have a smooth texture.
